

Versuchspersonenstunden | test subject hours

During the Bachelors' programme in Cognitive Science at Osnabrück University, you need to collect 10 test subject hours by contributing to research projects as a test subject. Offerings are usually announced via the student mailing lists of the IKW.¹

For each contribution, please fill in one line of the table below and let the person responsible for the research project sign the corresponding line. The completed list of subject hours has to be handed in at the examinations office when you register your Bachelors' thesis.

Last name, first name
Matriculation number
